MERRY CHRISTMAS.

To everyone who settles his old subscription account or makes a new one between now and Christmas, we will give as a premium the Continental magazine, a handsomely illustrated journal published monthly. This applies to both daily and weekly, but not to club rates.

AT A LOW RATE.

Mining stocks have got down so low that they have ceased to create excitement among people anxious to realize sudden fortunes. The depreciation will be evident to any one who will select a particular stock and note the variation in its prices from day to day for two or three months. The Call says: Take, for instance, Hale and Norcross. Less than three months ago its stock was selling for $8; now it is down to $2 05, around which figure it fluctuates with a decreasing tendency. It is pretty much the same throughout the entire list, many of the shares being quoted as selling for cents which formerly were high up among the dollars. In fact the board has fallen into such decay as no longer to be able to start a "boom". This prevents poor men who have saved up a few hundred dollars, from throwing them into the speculative hopper, from which they never emerge as a gnat. Governor Crittenden of Missouri has found stock dealing an unprofitable business having, it is said, come out of a venture minus $10,000. His experience has caused him to declare that it is "demoralizing to individuals and pernicious to society." And it is also asserted that Postmaster Hayes of St. Louis sent in his resignation owing to a "shortage" in stocks.

BUTLER REVIEWED.

The Chicago Tribune of this morning says: The Republican party has much reason to rejoice over the result of the election yesterday in Massachusetts. Ben Butler, a pestiferous demagogue, and one of the most dangerous men lately prominent in American politics, is unquestionably defeated. It was not a question of majority in Massachusetts; the defeat of Butler was the object aimed at, and it was accomplished in spite of his vile charges against the management of Republican institutions. Possibly in consequence of them he was refused a re-election. The issue was not the same as if he had been seeking a re-election as Governor on the same terms as Mr. Robinson; he had served one term, and usage in Massachusetts gives the second term to the Governor whose administration has reflected honor upon himself and the Commonwealth. The retirement of Butler to private life is equivalent to a censure upon his private and public conduct. It puts an end summarily to Butler's Presidential aspirations.

We take no stock in the report that General Sherman would not accept a nomination for the Presidency, says the Salt Lake Tribune. Formerly he had his office, and with a brother's devotion he was seeking to have John Sherman nominated for President. Now his office no longer exists and John Sherman has no good prospect for a nomination. Under such circumstances we suspect the General is too good a soldier to refuse a command from the people should it be made.

A gentleman who has passed a year and a half in the interior of Alaska and has just returned, declares that there is certain to be a disastrous outbreak before many months, which will result in the massacre of the whites at the mining camps and stations. The power of the Government he believes to be entirely inadequate to preserve order or control the natives, so long as but one vessel is kept on that coast.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Plead Not Guilty.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 6.

The Republican will say: The people respond 'not guilty' to the infamous charges of Governor Butler. Let all the world take notice that Massachusetts has not had a loose, dishonest, extravagant or corrupt administration. Massachusetts is not yet given over to the domination of the ignorant foreign-born, or the foreign-fathered. The old stock and old spirit of democracy, of freedom, of repugnance to one man domineering, and devotion to popular education, is still regnant and triumphant. This spirit animates many of those born on our soil of foreign parentage. Massachusetts cannot be permanently held in the control of any party which makes claptrap appeals to ignorance, prejudice and stupidity. The attempts to excite feeling against the Republicans as the party that advocates blue blood and capital, have miserably failed.

The Journal says editorially: "What Appomattox was to the Confederacy, the election yesterday was to Butler and Butlerism. Both the man and thing have been annihilated. For such a result the people, not only of Massachusetts, but of both parties throughout the country, should be profoundly thankful, because one man in this country who could rally about him the ignorant and vicious elements has been cast down for the last time."

The Result in Connecticut.

HARTFORD, November 6.

The election in Connecticut was for twelve members of the Senate, all the members of the House of Representatives and the Sheriff in eight counties. The Republicans claim the Legislature by 40 majority on joint ballot and nine out of twelve Senators. Republican Sheriffs were elected in Hartford, Toll, Middlesex, Fairfield and New London counties. The Republicans carry Hartford and the large towns by increased majorities, and the State Legislature is in their hands. Hartford goes Republican by 300 majority, electing a Senator and two Representatives. Hartford county elects a Republican Sheriff.

HARTFORD, November 6—8:15 P.M.

The Republicans carry Hartford by 600 majority. The Senate will now stand 15 Republicans and nine Democrats; a Republican gain of 2. House—Republicans, 101; Democrats, 9; a Republican gain of 11.

An Ex-Editor Killed.

FORT WORTH, November 6.

J. W. Fleming, formerly a Greenback political editor of the Age and Progress, was shot in the head and instantly killed by E. L. Cunningham. Fleming had a pistol in his hand when killed. He and Cunningham were rivals in the market garden business. Both had been drinking, and upon meeting each other in a store, the quarrel commenced.

Missouri Tornado.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., November 7.

There was death yesterday among the victims of the tornado. Several others are in a very critical condition and some of them will die. The reports last night embraced full and correct particulars. About $25,000 was raised to-day for the relief of the injured and destitute. All are being well cared for. The work of rebuilding has been going on all day.

Yesterday's Election.

PHILADELPHIA, November 7.

Complete returns received at the Associated Press office at 1:30 A. M. from 64 out of 67 counties in the State, give Miles (Rep.) for Auditor General a majority of 15,443. The three remaining counties—Bradford, Forest and Sullivan—will increase the Republican majority to about 17,000.

Later Returns.

BOSTON, November 7.

Additional returns give the Republicans 139 members of the Legislature, 92 Democrats and one Independent, with nine counties to hear from. Robinson's total vote thus far, is 159,855; Butler's, 150,013, with four towns to hear from. The total vote for Lieutenant Governor, gives Ames from 12,000 to 14,000 plurality.

New Jersey.

NEWARK, November 7.

The latest election returns give Abbott 5,500 majority; the Senate is 12 Republicans and 24 Democrats. The Democratic majority on joint ballot is five.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, November 7.

Returns from 15 precincts give Reese, Rep., for Supreme Judge, 2,150. Estimates based on these place his majority in the State of between 5,000 and 6,000.

Readjusters Submerged.

RICHMOND, Va., November 7.

Additional returns this morning show Democratic gains in members of the House, of delegates in each of the following counties: Charlotte, Culpepper, Fairfax, Havanna, Franklin, Henry, Montgomery, Norfolk, Wythe, Princess Anne, and one in Craig and Roanoke, one in Green and Madison, one in Smythe and Bland, two in Chesterfield and Pawhattan, two in Rockbridge and two in Washington. This, with a loss of one member in Caroline, makes a net Democratic gain of 18, which insures a Democratic majority in the House of 10, with a good prospect of the majority reaching 25 or 30. The Democrats have 22 of the 46 Senators, which will make their majority four, with a chance of increasing it to eight. The Democratic majority on the popular vote in the State, is between 12,000 and 20,000.

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, November 7.

Returns from a number of counties, incomplete, but sufficient is known to insure the election of the entire Democratic State ticket. The majority for McLain is estimated at 12,000. The Republicans gain three Senators. The Democrats gained Senators in Frederick and Washington counties; this, with five Democratic and eight Republican Senators holding over, will make the Senate stand 14 Democrats and 11 Republicans, with Calvert county yet to be heard from, but it is probably Republican. The House of Delegates will have a Democratic majority of probably 20 or more.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

A Fatal Explosion.

LONDON, November 7.

An explosion occurred this morning in the Munkfield colliery, Lancashire. One hundred and ten miners were in the colliery and only six, thus far, have been rescued.

LATER—Twenty persons have been rescued, some of whom are badly hurt. It is impossible to estimate the number of persons killed. Parties are searching for the missing miners. The searchers traversed a distance of 3/4 of a mile before reaching the scene of the explosion.

The calamity happened at the Moonfield colliery, not Munkfield. Thirty more men have been rescued, when the shaft became blocked, and many miners were imprisoned thereby, and there is but little hope of rescuing them. Some were taken through the Whitney Hill shaft, a mile from the blocked shaft.

Fire.

WALKERVILLE, Ont., November 7.

Three cattle barns belonging to Hiram Walker, distiller, 400 head of cattle, 200 tons of hay and 5,000 tons of coal were destroyed by fire this morning. The animals were roasted alive. Loss estimated at $10,000; partially insured.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

—Carr's election as Secretary of State in New York is assured.

—The Boston Globe (Democrat) concedes Butler's defeat by 10,000.

—In Dakota the vote shows a large majority for the new Constitution.

—The Trenton, N. J., Times computes Abbott's Democratic majority at 5,490.

—Governor Hubbard's majority in Minnesota is thought to be not less than 12,000.

—By the latest dispatches the Republicans claim to have carried Minnesota by 25,000.

—In the returns received up to 10 o'clock this morning, the Albany, N. Y., papers claim Carr's election by 3,000 majority.

—Full returns place the Connecticut State Senate, 16 Republicans and eight Democrats.

—Nearly all the towns and cities of the State of Virginia show Democratic gains except Norfolk.

—At Rouboix, France, during a fire in a factory, a quantity of benzine exploded, killing ten persons and injuring twenty.

—There is a strong probability that James W. Savage, the Democratic and Anti-Monopoly candidate for Supreme Judge of Nebraska, has been elected.

A Prosperous Sign.

The Austin Reveille says: There is a much better demand now for dwelling house property than for a year past. It is a very difficult matter to find vacant dwellings and especially desirable ones. The only way many have to get them is to buy them.

A Good Improvement.

The improvement, by the walling up and replanking of the Lake ditch where it crosses Virginia street, was a much needed and substantial improvement.

Better Than a Lawsuit.
The Central Pacific Railroad Company has paid the $300,000 compromise taxes over to San Joaquin county, and that amount less $75,000 paid to lawyers, is now in the County Treasury. The Stockton Independent says it will pay off all outstanding debts of the county, and leave $65,000, or nearly enough to build a new court house.

Fairly Injured.

Mrs. Daisy Addis, who arrived in Ogden from California last Monday, on a visit to her mother, met with a painful accident by being thrown from a carriage, having both ankles dislocated.

A Faithful Officer.

The Carson Appeal attributes the low expense in the trial of the Coombs case in this county, wholly to the good management of District Attorney Torreyson.

The unexcelled low prices at the White House don't indicate an inferior quality, but shows that the Abrams Brothers know how to buy and don't want all the money a man has for a single suit.

As Colonel Dennis would say, it is buttcrutts to peanuts, if you will give your wife the choice between a stylish set of store teeth and one of Knowles & Bainbridge's cooking ranges, she will select the latter.

An Immense Yield.

The St. Helena, Cal., Star is authority for the following: G. Groezinger of Yountville, had this year, on one small tract, the largest yield of grapes we have ever heard of. It is a triangular piece, containing 4,000 vines, from which was picked, by correct count, 69 tons of grapes, reserving one ton for family use, and besides about a ton destroyed by chickens. Seventy tons are 140,000 pounds, which, divided by 4,000, the number of the vines, makes nearly 35 pounds to the vine. We do not know how many acres these particular vines make, but as the range is from 800 to 1,000 to the acre, there are probably about four and one-half acres, which would make a yield of over 150 tons per acre. The variety is the Frontignan, and the value of the four and one-half acre crop is about $2,700.

Intelligent Miners.

Robert Walker, Esq., of Glasgow, Scotland, who spent two days of last week at the May Lady mine, says the Homer Index, was unreserved in his praise of the intelligence and kindly disposition of the men there employed. He said that during his travels on this coast it had frequently occurred to him that the laboring men of America were the most intelligent and self-reliant of their class he had met anywhere in the world, and that after his two days' association with the May Lady miners, he had become convinced that the miners of this coast were the best informed and most intelligent men of the working classes, even in this country.

Bernice District.

The Austin Revell of the 5th says: A gentleman I met in from this promising camp tells us that the Wild Goose, owned by Healey, Jordan and others, has just had 14 tons of ore crushed at Bothwell's mill. The first grade went over $200 a ton, the second $107 and the third $80. The Wild Goose has a tunnel in 200 feet, and have opened out breasts 85 feet wide in ore all the way. They have now six men at work, and have a valuable property.

A Heavy Beef Shipment.

The Silver State of the 5th says: Over 800 head of beef cattle have been driven to Winnemucca by Hock Mason for shipment to San Francisco, and 23 car-loads of them will be shipped to-day. J. Sibbold also ships four car-loads of fat beavers from Iron Point to-day.

He Caught Them.

Henry Ruhe has been missing sheep from his band, for some time, and thinking he had guessed at the character of the marauders, he put out strychnine last evening and was rewarded by finding this morning, two large sized dead coyotes near by.

A New Deputy.

At the request of County Treasurer Nevins, the county commissioners of Storey county yesterday appointed A. L. Edwards deputy County Treasurer.

Valuable Books.

Mrs. B. F. Foster of Carson, has presented the State Library with two large volumes of the geological survey of California.

BROKEN GLASS.

How It is Utilized by Glass Manufacturers.

The waste of the glass furnace—such as pieces of broken glass, flaw glass, hearth-droppings and the glass remaining adherent to the blower's pipe—is utilized again, serving a purpose in the manufacture of glass similar to rags in paper-making. Agate glass is made by melting waste pieces of colored glass. One thousand tons of cullet, or broken glass, are collected in the metropolis alone, and sold to the few city glass works to be remelted. Broken bottles are now collected and utilized. Thousands of tons of these are broken every year in London alone. Broken "wines" and broken "sodas" are converted to many useful purposes. The latter especially.

The broken bottles are utilized for the manufacture of cheap jewelry, chimney ornaments and inferior household glass for the manufacturing districts. They are also used for the manufacture of emery powder, glass paper, etc. Some idea of the number of "sodas" broken in the process of filling, corking, cleaning and distributing may be gathered from the circumstances that one great mineral-water manufactured in London sold last year 100 tons. The value of the "metal," as it is styled, is somewhat about 10 shillings per ton, but it varies according to the demand. When the market for "fancy goods" is active, broken bottles command a better price. A revival of trade sets this particular industry in motion with others, and broken bottles are enhanced in value. In fact, broken glass and broken pottery serve many purposes, though it is only lately that economic science has learned how to turn them to account.

Humboldt Items.

The Silver State of the 6th inst. says: Yesterday J. V. McCurdy shipped one bar of bullion, valued at $2,633.47 from the Paradise valley mine.

Yesterday a Charles Kemble's teams brought 40,000 pounds of wheat from C. Batchold's ranch on Clear creek, to the Winnemucca Flouring Mills.

Yesterday six bars of bullion, valued at $16,731.34, were received at Wells Fargo & Co.'s office here, from Idaho City, for shipment to San Francisco.

Hock Mason has another band of about 400 head of beavers here for shipment to San Francisco, and Mr. Van Valer has about 150 head for shipment to Poley, Hellborn & Co.

Dispatches Stopped.

The Eureka Sentinel of the 6th inst., received this morning, contains something more than two columns in explanation of the cause which led to the cutting off of the press dispatches from that paper. A. Richardson, the Associated Press agent at San Francisco, telegraphs the editor of the Sentinel that this summary action was taken in consequence of an editorial which appeared in that paper on the 1st inst., which he (the agent) must have construed as a personal attack upon himself.

A Magnetic Disturbance.

As the steamer Columbia was entering the harbor at Panama she was struck by lightning, but the iron foremast acted as a conductor, and little damage was done. Portions of the iron of the ship became magnetized, so that alterations will have to be made. The compass will not point correctly, and a movement of the wheel will deflect it. All of the magnets on board were demoralized.

High Toned Drunks.

Selkirk, of the Placerville Democrat, writing from San Francisco, says: "I am credibly assured that every night there are more of the 'way up fellows'—judges, lawyers, doctors, bankers, merchants and the like—taken home in hacks and cabs, too drunk to navigate, from the clubs and tony resorts than there are drunks taken from the slums to the lock up."

Admitted to Probate.

The will of the late Frank Perkins was admitted to probate yesterday, Mrs. Perkins having been appointed executrix. C. W. Jones, W. D. Wagar and J. F. Fitzgerald were appointed appraisers, and H. B. Cossitt as the attorney for the absent heirs. The value of the estate is estimated at $7,000.

Another Killing at Mussel Slough.

Mussel Slough was the scene of another excitement yesterday because the slaying of McAuliffe, who was of the day before placed in possession of the Cockerill tract by Marshal Drew, and was found dead this morning with a bullet hole through his head.

Artesian Wells.

Water has been struck in an artesian well at Miles City, Montana, at a depth of 352 feet, while a well at Billings, Montana, has been bored to a depth of 535 feet, and no water reached.

Water Receding.

Lake Tahoe is reported to have fallen four feet during the last two months. Sam Davis must have been opening up anew, his subterranean outlet.

PERSONALS.

Hon. P. N. Marker was in town this morning.

Mrs. D. A. Bender arrived from below this morning.

Captain Matt Canavan is again reported laid up at the Bay, with rheumatism.

The wife and two daughters of the Rev. Jennings arrived from California this morning, and were met by the husband here.

W. D. Torreyson, wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. Brown, arrived from Carson this morning and left by the N. & O. for the end of the track.

J. C. Smith, who owns a ranch on the Steamboat road, is enjoying a visit from his sister, Mrs. Hartwell, and family, who live near Stockton, Cal., and a brother from Chicago, who he had not seen for 30 years.

Crystallized Honey-Dew.

The Oregon Itemizer speaks of a singular process of making syrup, as follows: E. T. Miller has placed on our table a specimen of one of the greatest natural curiosities it has been our privilege to witness for some time. It consisted of a fir bough coated to the depth of half an inch in places with a clear, white candy. The specimen came from the neighborhood of Bald mountain, northwest of King's valley, where, we are informed, nearly all the trees are so coated. It is evidently crystallized honey-dew, and must exist in immense quantities in that section. The settlers gather it and manufacture it into syrup for table use.

Beating the Record.

The head of a family living at the upper end of town, who is a warm admirer of horseflesh, and fond of all kinds of horse-racing, says the True Fiasco, was reading the paper at breakfast the other morning. Looking up, he said to his wife: "Sarah, if I owned a horse like Jay-Eye-See, would you throw your arms around me and kiss me whenever he beat the record?" "William," she severely answered, "there is a saw-horse next to that wood-pile at the back door. If you make it beat the record, I will kiss you so often it will make your head swim."

They Don't Seem to Like Him.

It transpires that ex-Delegate George Cannon's mission to the East is to work in the interest of the Mormon Church in securing the removal of Governor Murray, and no money is being spared to accomplish his overthrow. There is a movement on foot among the Gentiles to have him reappointed. The Apostle, since the Governor succeeded in ousting him as a delegate from Utah, is determined to get even by securing Murray's removal.

A Valuable Quarter Section.

It is estimated that the quarter section of land upon which the capital is located at Bismarck, will sell for $400,000. At an auction sale of lots, on the 22d of last month, nearly $15,000 was realized the first day from the sale of 63 lots. They would have sold for a great deal more, but the late decision of Judge Edgerton, as to the validity of the location of the capital, makes men of money shy about investing in Bismarck real estate.

Surrender Confirmed.

Adjutant General Kelton at San Francisco, received a dispatch from General Crook, confirming the surrender of the Chiricahuas to Lieutenant Hunter, at Silver Creek, Arizona. The Indians, it is stated, would have come to the reservation before, but were obliged to scatter in the mountains to avoid the attempt of the Mexicans to surround them. Geronimo's son and Chato's family are among the submissives.

Encouraging.

The Minnie Moore owners were made glad Wednesday by drifting on the east end of their claim, and therein striking an 18-inch vein of solid galena, high grade, and about four or five feet of a carbonate character, which will be concentrated as taken out. The Minnie Moore can now be said to be opened for fully 1500 feet, and in half a dozen places shows from five to eleven feet of pay ore.

Drowned in Mono Lake.

A French Canadian by the name of Gosselin was drowned in Mono Lake last Saturday while duck hunting. His body was found lashed to the boat in which he had embarked, and which had been blown across the lake by a heavy gale. The deceased was about 36 years of age, and formerly lived in Storey county, this State.

A Placer Mine.

The steamer Otter has brought to Victoria $1,600 in gold dust, which was obtained from McDane and party, which they discovered on a creek, a tributary of the Skeena. The party panned out from $8 to $20 per day by hand. They will winter in the diggings, expecting great results.

October Fees.

There was paid into the County Treasury, by the several county officers of this county, during the month of October as follows: Clerk, $175.60; Sheriff, $158.50; Recorder, $141.25; Assessor, $15.50.

Almost a Tragedy.

While walking past Tom Barnett's boot and shoe store this morning, a sight met our gaze which so startled us that we were struck speechless for a moment. On rushing to the scene of excitement, we found the store of Tom Barnett filled with people anticipating some terrible tragedy. Ye reporter forced himself into the thickest of the crowd and anxiously inquired the meaning of the unusual gathering. No one seemed disposed to speak, but upon each face there was a look of grim determination. Mr. Barnett and his assistant rushed hurriedly to and fro, boots and hats flew in every direction, and all seemed wild with excitement. Unable to obtain an answer to our numerous inquiries we throttled one of the bystanders and hissed through our clenched teeth, "What means this stir in Rome?" He raised himself with superhuman effort, and gasped, "Trying to get some of Tom Barnett's 'latest out.'"

A Paralyser.

He took his girl to the soiree the other night, and, as usual, had been outside between dances. "Do you see young Brown over there?" he said to the young lady. "Yes," she replied. "Well he's a man I expect to paralyze some day." "Are you joking at the conclusion of this dance?" she asked. "Yes," he said reluctantly; "I am afraid I shall have to; a gentleman is waiting for me now." "Well said the young girl, "I don't like Mr. Brown much either and I will tell you what to do. When you return from seeing the gentleman outside, just step over to where Mr. Brown is sitting and breathe on him. That will paralyze him."

The Care of the Deceitful.

A story is told of a wealthy passenger passing through Gridley who noticed the tender manner in which a young lady led an aged relative along the road. Struck with admiration he proposed and was accepted. And now the Gridley maidens may be seen by the dozen trotting their grandmothers up and down every time a train comes in.

Cattle Arriving.

W. J. Owens of Wells, unloaded 20 cars, 325 head, of cattle at this place last night, all but one car of which he will feed this winter on M. C. Lake's ranch; the other car is beef and will be sent below as soon as they get rested and filled up.

How To Stop Lying.

"How shall we stop the great evil of lying?" asks the Christian Advocate. To which the Times-Review replies: Don't know, give it up. It's a habit you never ought to have fallen into.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 25, 1892.
 "Dear Father: My father resides at Glen, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the enclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who are so good looking as he is. I could easily find fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly,
 W. M. PHILLIPS.

FROM THE FATHER:

"It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
 Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sore. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glen, Vt., Oct. 21, 1892.
 Yours faithfully,
 HIRSH PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA CURES Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blisters, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It cleans the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

FRANK AND CLEAR.

Having Admitted the Strength of the Evidence, an Eminent Physician Takes Logical Action.

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincey Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," "A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

101 WEST TENTH STREET,
 NEW YORK, August 11, 1892.
 MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Gentlemen—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about planning my faith to any medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPSULE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my opinion.

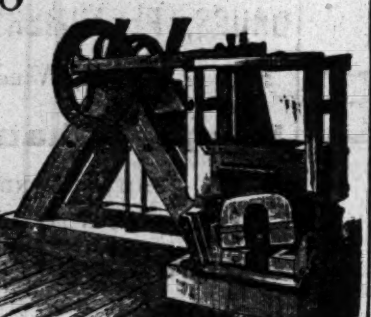

My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and anti-septic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of lame back, local rheumatism, neuralgia, congestion of the bronchial tubes and lungs, dyspepsia, torpid liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPSULE POROUS PLASTER an exceptionally clear plaster to use and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its quality, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so you may use my name to that effect.
 Very truly yours,
 H. E. KANE, M. D.
 The genuine have the word CAPSULE cut in the center. Price 25 cents.

MUSTERED OUT.

The Heroes of the War Fast Fading from Sight.

WASHINGTON, October 20th.—"Only 18 years ago that the Rebellion closed," said an old army officer to me the other day, "but the Generals of the war are fast going out of sight." Then he went on to say, "Meade, Thomas, Hooker, Garfield, Kilpatrick, Burnside and Halleck are dead. The next few years will see that list lengthened. General Grant is well on toward 70. He comes to Washington often, and walks quietly about the streets, with his cigar in his mouth, better dressed than when he was President, and looking as if life agreed with him. Sherman is 64, and he looks older, but the family is hardy, and he is likely to see 1000. The youngest of all the great leaders is Sheridan, now to command the army, and he is but 51. Sheridan was a Major-General at 30. Fitz-John Porter appears here every Winter, white-haired and broken in frame—a little old gentleman, who looks back to twenty years of disgrace. His old commander, McClellan, now a rotund man, with bending shoulders, has not changed much of late. He is rich, and entertains well in his New York City home, but the activity of his life is over. He likes still to tell of his campaigns. Pleasanton, the hero of a hundred cavalry fights, lives quietly here, and can be found any day reading the papers in one of the offices in Newspaper Row. His hair and mustache are white, and his voice gentle as a woman's. You can say the same of Rosecrans, the idol of the Army of the Cumberland. He and his wife live, almost unnoticed, on

CAPITOL HILL

During the time he spends here performing his duties as a California Congressman. His complexion is like a youth's and his hair, with a military cut, white as snow. The man who has commanded 100,000 men at Chancellorsville seems abashed at the confusion in Congress, and seldom rises to speak. General Hawley and Logan are the two other most distinguished Generals in Congress. Both are 57 years old, but neither has a gray hair. General Rosecrans will be re-elected this Winter by an old companion in the Western army—General Slocum, of Brooklyn. He has been in Congress before. He served, I believe, four years soon after the close of the war. General Sickles is practicing law in New York, and Stoneman is Governor of California. Doubleday, who was in Fort Sumpter when it was first upon, lives in New York, and is writing a book; while Humphreys, Hunter and Crittenden may be seen almost any day about this city, where they own fine houses and live handsomely on the retired list. Fremont is no longer rich. He and his wife, Jessie Benton Fremont, are forgotten in crowded New York. The General whom the Vermont troops worshiped, George J. Stannard—with one arm gone and a half dozen wounds—sits up at the Capitol during the session, tending the door of the members' gallery of the house. The Democrats promise that he shall not be disturbed. He is so inoffensive that the pushing women almost overpowered him on days when a crowd visits the Capitol, and yet he saved the day at Gettysburg, and fell with three wounds while leading a forlorn hope at Petersburg. McDowell is on the retired list; Don Carlos Buell runs an iron furnace in Kentucky; Banks is a United States Marshal; Hancock, Schofield and Pope are still Major-Generals, but the last of them will retire in three years. General Howard is at Omaha, a Brigadier. General Terry is the youngest of the Brigadiers who won fame in the war. With good luck he will succeed Sheridan in command of the army.

GENERAL WRIGHT

With benevolent face and patriarchal beard, has turned from war to projects of river and harbor improvement. Gilmore, Parks and Weitzel, once commanding corps and armies, are now in charge of light-houses and fortifications. Grierson, the famous cavalry General of the Western armies, is broiling in Texas with the mounted colored regiment which he commands. They are all getting well on toward the downward track. In ten years there will not be a general officer of the war in active life.

Looking over some old papers in the Pension Office, the other day, the difference between the old-time and present methods of granting aid to soldiers became very noticeable. Now, almost any soldier easily obtains relief; then it was a matter involving the clearest proofs. In some cases even abject poverty seemed necessary before the Government interposed to give relief. One case, from the long correspondence and interesting character of the claimant, is a sample of many. The papers are voluminous. They begin in 1819, when Colonel Paul Dudley Sargent, of Sullivan, Me., asked for a pension. His memorial showed that in 1772 he lived in Gloucester, Mass., where he organized a body of minutemen. From his forwardness in the independent cause he was blacklisted and compelled to flee to Amherst, N. H. Here he organized a regiment of militia, and so ready was he that, before daylight on April 19th, 1775, he was on his way to Concord with his command, which afterward became a part of Washington's army, and was the first body of troops to enter Boston after the evacuation the next March. Here he fitted out the first privateers of the Revolution. It carried nine guns and took several prizes, with the proceeds of which Sargent paid his troops out of his own pocket. In June he marched to New York, was in all the battles there, so that his regiment was reduced from 737 men to 197. He took part in the battle of Trenton, and soon after resigned his commission for ill health, but kept on fitting out privateers, of which he sent

PORTY-SEVEN BAIL TO SEA.

In later years his property was lost by misfortune, and at the time spoken of he was reduced to poverty, living upon the scant proceeds of a ferry at Sullivan, the sole use of which had been granted by the country. The pension was granted at last but was taken away, on the score that he was rich. He made an indignant protest, and filed an inventory at the War Department, by which it appeared that he was worth $1270, every little item of household furniture appearing scrupulously in the schedule. The pension was refused although ample testimony was shown that the old veteran, now 76 years old, owed about $2000. In 1838 he made another effort. His ferry had been superceded by a bridge, his occupation was gone, and the schedules annexed to his inventory showed that the scanty property had diminished to $265, of which $200 represented the tumble-down house in which he lived, with his wife, three maiden daughters and a grand-daughter. His letter to John C. Calhoun, the Secretary of War, was most pathetic, now shown in the testimony of judges of various courts, to his deserving condition, and of creditors to debts ten times the value of his home. Still nothing was done. The hand-writing of the correspondence showed the growing infirmities of Colonel Sargent, who in 1836 sent in trembling characters "the third and last schedule to be made by Paul Dudley Sargent, a colonel in the revolution-ary war. I have not any property, nor any income whatever. The fact is, I have been living for four years on charity and the sale of my furniture, which is now entirely gone." At last, convinced that he was not too rich to be pensioned, at the age of 81 years, and after he had waited in bitter distress so long, the officials granted him $20 a month, but too late to be of much good, for he died soon after. That is the record of the pension given so grudgingly, and withheld illegally from the man who led the first New Hampshire troops to Concord, fitted out the first privateer, and gave all his private means without stint to the cause of independence. It is in striking contrast to the prodigal bounty now shown in dealing with the yet young survivors of the late war.—Boston Advertiser.

GENERAL NOTES

When the minister is pretty severe upon human shortcomings in the pulpit every man leans back in his pew, smiles, and says to himself, "Now he's giving it to 'em." Satisfying thought, isn't it, that the minister always has reference to somebody else?—Somerville Journal.

The result of the election in Ohio seems to brace up the southern Bourbons to a realization of the possibility of a Democratic victory ahead. They are beginning to give negroes to understand that a Democratic control don't mean unalloyed happiness for them. It may turn out that a Democratic victory in Ohio, in October, 1893, was the only thing that made possible a Republican victory throughout the country in 1894. Democratic victories, for the last twenty years, have been in the nature of "disguised blessings."—[Addian (Mich.) Times.

The following notice appeared in the Paris Radical, of October 1st, in regard to Mile. Emma Nevada, or "Miss Emma Wixom, a graduate of Mills' Seminary and a pupil of Professor Kellerer: Mile Nevada resumed last evening the series of her debates as Mignon. The success of the young American singer has been very great. She manages with precision and skill a voice lightly shrill, which she does not try to force; she expresses with perfect taste and admirable shade. As an actress she is irreproachable, and has very well comprehended the changeable character of Mignon, which is by turns sad and gay. Mile Nevada is less agreeable to hear when she speaks, and her Professor of French pronunciation has yet much to do. The entire success of the evening was due to Mile. Nevada, who, at first somewhat timid, could not be reassured by the frequent and hearty applause.

The collector who has been for one year and a half in Alaska, in the service of the Royal Museum at Berlin, is en route for home. He is a native of the very north of Norway, and has spent some years in Greenland and other Arctic countries. He understands the language of the Esquimaux thoroughly, and has, therefore, been able to travel among them in Alaska with excellent advantages for observation. He says the interior of the Territory is very wild and rugged, and the people more numerous than is likely to be agreeable to gold hunters. He declares that the temper of the natives is such that there is certain to be a disastrous outbreak before many months, which will result in the massacre of the whites at the mining camp and stations. The power of the Government he believes to be entirely inadequate to preserve order or control the natives, so long as but one vessel is kept on that coast. He takes a very gloomy view of our affairs in those regions, and does not believe we realize the situation.

Mr. Irvin Ayres, of Oakland, says the Red Bluff Cause, paid our town a visit last Sunday, remaining until Monday. Many old residents of Red Bluff will remember Mr. Ayres as having been a resident of the town in early days. In 1854, he, in partnership with a man named Bill Gleason, ran a lively stable here, and failed in business, when Gleason left the country and Ayres had the bills to pay, which he did. He also at one time kept a saloon here, also had a liquor store and at one time ran a hotel at Tehama. None of his business ventures proving very successful. Mr. Ayres a few years ago went up to Fort Crook. There he made the acquaintance of several influential army officers, and through their friendly offices and the influence of his brother, Gen. R. B. Ayres, a prominent officer during the Rebellion, was enabled to open a saloon at Fort Bidwell. From the time he began business there, Dame Fortune has smiled upon him, until now he is enabled to retire with a fortune and take life easy in his declining years. He was at one time a candidate for the Legislature from Modoc and Siskiyou counties against Lieut. Gov. Daggett, carrying Modoc by 45 majority, while Siskiyou gave Daggett only 90 majority. His old friends who remember the reverses and hard knocks he received in the earlier business ventures will be glad to hear of his success and prosperity.

A Washington correspondent telegraphs: Stillson Hatchings, who has quite intimate relations with Blaine, speaking about that statesman's financial losses, said: "I was given the other day an explanation of that which to many of his friends, has been almost inexplicable—Blaine's motive or object in leasing his house almost before he had occupied it. Without circumlocution, can be expressed in one word—heavy losses in Northern Pacific Railroad stock speculations. Blaine has not danced attendance on the stock market during the last half dozen years of the prevailing speculation, but in common with a great many others, he thought there was intrinsic merit and poof in Northern Pacific securities under Villard's apparently sagacious manipulation. It is charged that Villard saw the storm coming, and got well under cover before it broke. Indeed, it is asserted by many, that he made as much money out of that furore, as he was expected to lose; but whether this is true or not, the lame ducks are very many, and among them politicians and officials are numerous, and I could put my finger upon fifty men in Washington, prominent in public circles, who have lost all the way from $500 to $10,000. Whether Blaine is in this category or not, I do not know, but information comes from one who ought to be well informed, and it is, I am sure, veracious. If true, it is to Blaine's credit, that when retrenchment was necessary, he entered upon it without timidity, or apparent care for what Mrs. Grundy, or the rest of the world, might say about it."
